Gastro

Belly balm for horse

VIMITAL Gastro protects the stomach of high performance horses or in connection with digestive and bowel-affecting medication.

Gastro is based on lecithin which is found in the stomach and along with polysaccharides form a barrier gel to effectively protect the mucous membranes from the stomach acid.

Lecithin also helps to improve the horse's nutrient absorption and energy utilization of the feed.

Usage

60% of performance horses and about 90% of racehorses have ulcers similar damage to the gastric mucosa. Problems that can be traced to excessive amounts of starch-rich feed, stress, environmental changes etc.

Symptoms of stomach irritation can be bad nutrition and condition, the horse becomes uneasy before meals, bad temper, low performance, etc.

Naturally the gastric mucosa is protected against the aggressive gastric acidity of the substances contained in VIMITAL Gastro.
